St. Thomas Aquinas
Summa Theologiae III Q79 a1

The effect of [the Eucharist] ought to be considered, first of all and principally, from what is contained in this sacrament, which is Christ; Who, just as by coming into the world, He visibly bestowed the life of grace upon the world, according to Jn. 1:17: "Grace and truth came by Jesus Christ," so also, by coming sacramentally into man causes the life of grace, according to Jn. 6:58: "He that eateth Me, the same also shall live by Me." Hence Cyril says on Lk. 22:19: "God's life-giving Word by uniting Himself with His own flesh, made it to be productive of life. For it was becoming that He should be united somehow with bodies through His sacred flesh and precious blood, which we receive in a life-giving blessing in the bread and wine."

Secondly, it is considered on the part of what is represented by this sacrament, which is Christ's Passion, as stated above. And therefore, this sacrament works in man the effect which Christ's Passion wrought in the world. Hence, Chrysostom says on the words, "Immediately there came out blood and water" (Jn. 19:34): "Since the sacred mysteries derive their origin from thence, when you draw nigh to the awe-inspiring chalice, so approach as if you were going to drink from Christ's own side." Hence our Lord Himself says (Mt. 26:28): "This is My blood... which shall be shed for many unto the remission of sins."

Thirdly, the effect of this sacrament is considered from the way in which this sacrament is given; for it is given by way of food and drink. And therefore, this sacrament does for the spiritual life all that material food does for the bodily life, namely, by sustaining, giving increase, restoring, and giving delight. Accordingly, Ambrose says (De Sacram. v): "This is the bread of everlasting life, which supports the substance of our soul." And Chrysostom says (Hom. xlvi in Joan.): "When we desire it, He lets us feel Him, and eat Him, and embrace Him." And hence our Lord says (Jn. 6:56): "My flesh is meat indeed, and My blood is drink indeed."

Fourthly, the effect of this sacrament is considered from the species under which it is given. Hence Augustine says (Tract. xxvi in Joan.): "Our Lord betokened His body and blood in things which out of many units are made into some one whole: for out of many grains is one thing made," viz. bread; "and many grapes flow into one thing," viz. wine. And therefore, he observes elsewhere (Tract. xxvi in Joan.): "O sacrament of piety, O sign of unity, O bond of charity!"

And since Christ and His Passion are the cause of grace and since spiritual refreshment, and charity cannot be without grace, it is clear from all that has been set forth that this sacrament bestows grace.

Santo Tomás de Aquino Suma Teología III Q79 a1

El efecto de [la Eucaristía] debe deducirse primero y principalmente de lo que está contenido en él, que es Cristo, quien, de la misma manera que al venir al mundo trajo para el mundo la vida de la gracia, según las palabras de Jn 1,17: La gracia y la verdad vinieron por Jesucristo, así al venir al hombre en el sacramento, le da la vida de la gracia, según las palabras de Jn 6,58: Quien me coma vivirá por mí. Por lo que escribe San Cirilo: El Verbo vivificante de Dios, uniéndose a su propia carne, la tomó vivificante también. Convenía, pues, que él se uniera a nuestros cuerpos a través de su sagrada carne y de su preciosa sangre, que nosotros recibimos por una bendición vivificante, en el pan y en el vino.

Segundo, el efecto de este sacramento se deduce de lo que este sacramento representa, que es la pasión de Cristo, como se dijo más arriba (q.74 a.1; q.76 a.2 ad-1). Por eso, el efecto que la pasión de Cristo produjo en el mundo, lo produce este sacramento en el hombre. Y así, comentando las palabras de Jn 19,34: Inmediatamente salió sangre y agua, dice San Juan Crisóstomo: Puesto que aquí tienen principio los sagrados misterios, cuando te acerques al cáliz tremendo, acércate como si bebieras del costado mismo de Cristo. Por lo que el mismo Señor dice en Mt 26,28: Esta es mi sangre que será derramada por vosotros para el perdón de los pecados.

Tercero, el efecto de este sacramento se deduce del modo de darse, pues se da a modo de comida y de bebida. Por lo que todos los efectos que producen la comida y la bebida material en la vida corporal, como son el sustentar, el crecer, el reparar y el deleitar, los produce este sacramento en la vida espiritual. Por eso dice San Ambrosio en su libro De Sacramentos: Este es el pan de la vida eterna y sustenta la sustancia de nuestra alma. Y San Juan Crisóstomo en Super lo.: Se nos da a quienes le deseamos para que le palpemos, le comamos y le abracemos. Por lo que el mismo Señor dice en Jn 6,56: Mi carne es verdadera comida, y mi sangre es verdadera bebida.

Cuarto, el efecto de este sacramento se deriva de las especies con las que se da. De ahí que San Agustín diga: Nuestro Señor nos entregó su cuerpo y su sangre en unos elementos que se reagrupan en un solo ser a partir de muchos, porque uno, el pan, es un solo ser procedente de muchos granos; y el otro, el vino, es un solo líquido procedente de muchos racimos. Por lo que el mismo santo afirma en Super lo.: Oh sacramento de piedad, signo de unidad, vínculo de caridad.

Y puesto que Cristo y su pasión son causa de la gracia, y sin la gracia no puede haber sustento espiritual ni caridad, resulta de todo lo dicho que este sacramento confiere la gracia.

Thank You

Our annual St. Theresa bazaar for 2022 was a huge success. In 2021 we had a Spring gumbo cook-off and raffle in place of the bazaar.

It was exciting to see so many hard-working volunteers participating in different aspects of our bazaar – from planning, setting-up, working booths, tearing down, etc.

The list of people to thank is endless - ministries, parishioners, office staff, organizations, youth group...

Planning and organizing this event takes time and hard work, from raffle ticket and t-shirt designs, ordering equipment, rides, tents, etc., organizing meetings and volunteers, creating forms and announcements, working with food inspectors and the City of Sugar Land, security, logistics...all of this is a fun time and needs a nice committee to make this event run smoothly.

Thank you again, Diane & Gary Blanchette – 2022 Bazaar Chairpersons

For 2023, there is a plea for a person(s) and/or committee to step-up and use their creativity in running with the plan for another successful St. Theresa bazaar. If interested in finding out more, please contact Diane Blanchette 281-494-1156

THE MOST HOLY BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST

O GOD, who in this wonderful Sacrament have left us a memorial of your Passion, grant us, we pray, so to revere the sacred mysteries of your Body and Blood that we may always experience in ourselves the fruits of your redemption.

Who live and reign with God the Father in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

Amen.
